The First Principles Project and Intergovernmental Relations in a Modern Treaty Context

Rhiannon Klein, Yukon College

Photo credit: Brendan Preston Productions

- Introduction
- First Principles Project
- PhD dissertation: transitioning from negotiation to implementation of modern treaties

Photo credit: Derek Crowe

The First Principles Project

Photo credit: Brendan Preston Productions

Photo credit: Tim Koepke

Photo credit: Tim Koepke

"For the future, perhaps the most important aspect of the UFA is how it sets up ongoing relationships between the governments of Yukon First Nations, Canada and Yukon. This allows us to adapt to the future for the mutual benefit of all Yukoners"

- First Principles Project: 40 @ -40°

NEXT STEPS FOR THE FIRST PRINCIPLES PROJECT

1. Materials for school aged children
2. Accessible, plain language documents for First Nations citizens and the general public
3. Materials and training for employees involved in implementation at all levels of government

"For us the agreements represent a partnership and an understanding among governments-– Canada, Yukon and First Nations– about what our relationship is going forward."

– Judy Gingell

Council of Yukon First Nations
Council of Yukon First Nations